rapsani

Rapsani is a coastal Protected Denomination of Origin on the southern foothills of Mount Olympus, the home of the gods in Greek mythology. The mountainous, sunny terroir in this part of Thessalia is well suited to the production of red wine.

A structured, dense blend of Xinomavro, Stavroto and Krasato is the specialty of the region and the sole wine permitted under the PDO rules.

Rapsani wines must be a combination of equal proportions of these three varieties. Unusually, they must be vinified together.
